Messrs Spooner, Platt and Money contended that the enactment would have the effect of limiting the salaries of all the retired officers assigned to active fluty to a Major's pay, regardless of rank. Mr. Spooner contended that the paragraph was an indirect effort to prevent the assignment to active service of general officers, and denounced it as "cowardly."

Several amendments were suggested, but action on them and on the provision went over for the day. Some 36 pension bells were passed.
